The screenshot shows the DWH Project Tracker website interface. At the top, there is a navigation menu with options: HOME, PROJECTS, SUMMARIES, ABOUT, FAQ, DOWNLOADS, CONTACT US, and LAUNCH MAP VIEWER. Below the navigation, there are three menu options: ABOUT THE PROJECT TRACKER, ABOUT THE DWH FUNDING PROGRAMS, and RESTORATION AND RECOVERY FUNDS TO DATE. The 'ABOUT THE DWH FUNDING PROGRAMS' option is highlighted. Below the menu, there is a section titled 'Berms to Barriers Project' and 'Gulf of Mexico Research Initiative (GoMRI)'. The 'Description' section for GoMRI states: 'GoMRI was created to fund research that "improves society's ability to understand, respond to and mitigate the impacts of petroleum pollution and related stressors of the marine and coastal ecosystems, with an emphasis on conditions found in the Gulf of Mexico. Knowledge accrued will be applied to restoration and to improving the long-term environmental health of the Gulf of Mexico." The GoMRI funds are the result of an independent, voluntary initiative sponsored by BP and are not related to any litigation, fines, or penalties resulting from the oil spill. (From: About GoMRI - GoMRI History)'. The 'Research Themes' section lists three points: 1. Physical distribution, dispersion and dilution of petroleum, its constituents and any dispersants applied, under the action of physical oceanographic processes, air-sea interactions and tropical storms. 2. Chemical evolution and biological degradation of the petroleum/dispersant systems and subsequent interaction with coastal, open-ocean, and deep-water ecosystems. 3. Environmental effects of the petroleum/dispersant system on the sea floor, water column, coastal waters, beach sediments.
